Mystery Bus Tour on November 19th

Thirty people rolled up early on the Sunday morning and boarded the big bus for our mystery tour. We enjoyed an animated talk and garden tour by Polly the owner of Riccarton near Campbelltown. After morning tea in her beautiful and extensive garden we re-boarded the bus and drove on to Deddington in the northern midlands to the Cameron property, Marathon, which is adjacent to Patterdale, the property of colonial artist John Glover. There we enjoyed lunch under spreading trees and a garden tour and interesting talk about native tree decline.

Thank you to Margaret, Peter and Barbara for organising such a wonderful day out, and to our cheerful driver who skillfully manoeuvred the big bus around sharp corners and along narrow country roads and bridges to deliver us safely to two lovely gardens.

Here are some photographs from the Mystery Bus Tour. There are more photographs of the day on our website: <http://taroonatastas.au/gardening-forum/2016-events/>
